EPIC Roasthouse's annual High on the Hog event draws hundreds for pinot and pork pairings from famed chefs and winemakers.

Pig out on wine, swine

High on pinot: Much like Charlie Palmer's famous Pigs & Pinot, San Francisco's EPIC Roasthouse holds an annual swine and wine soiree. The sixth annual High on the Hog will feature pinot noir tastings and gourmet eats on the restaurant's waterfront patio.

Executive chef Parke Ulrich, along with chefs from Waterbar, Baby Blues BBQ and other Bay Area restaurants will pair pork dishes with pinot noirs from Cobb, Sandhi, Hartford Court, Freestone, Red Car, Pisoni and Twomey, among others.

Entertainment (as if ice cream sandwiches with chocolate-bacon cookies weren't enough) will include live music by Joey Altman & the Soul Peppers along with lively horseshoe and corn hole toss competitions. Tickets: $65. Details: 1 to 4 p.m. June 21, 369 The Embarcadero South, S.F. www.epicroasthouse.com.
